2022 Domaine Lupin Frangy - 100% Altesse grown on a south-facing hillside near the village of Frangy in the Savoie. Everything is done by hand in the steep terraced vineyard and the wine is aged for 8 months on the lees in stainless steel. Ripe apricots and golden apples with wet stones and nice complexity. Perfect for fondue and rich mountain cheeses or potato pancakes topped in crème fraîche.

Bottles ordered:

2025 Abbazia di Novacella Pinot Grigio - The Abbey of Novacella was founded in 1142 by Augustinian monks and is still run by them today. This is a reference wine for what Pinot Grigio should taste like. Rich, with succulent pears and melon balanced by racy acidity and minerals. Pair with Dover Sole topped in a beurre blanc sauce or shrimp scampi.

Bottles ordered:

2021 Neumeister Gemischter Satz - A delightful Austrian field blend of 40-year old Gelber Muskateller, Welschriesling, Müller-Thurgau and Scheurebe. Subtly floral, with notes of honeysuckle, white peaches, honeydew melon and minerals with a crisp and refreshing finish. A great patio sipper or a nice companion for a Thai or Indian curry.

Alpine Wines

2023 Kellerei St. Pauls "Luzia" Pinot Noir - Located in Alto Adige, the cooperative of St. Pauls was founded in 1907 and today has more than 200 members. This light-bodied Pinot reflects where it was grown; almost like walking through an Alpine forest. Mulberries, dried leaves and Alpine herbs with great acidity. Pair with a mushroom pasta or grilled salmon with a juniper dry spice rub.

2022 Nino Negri "Mazè" Valtellina Superiore - Valtellina is a valley in the far north of Lombardy, bordering Switzerland. It's steep terrain requires Nebbiolo grapes (known locally as Chiavennasca) to be grown in stone terraces. A portion of the grapes are dried prior to fermentation for extra concentration. Black raspberries and forest floor with soft tannins and a long finish. Enjoy with duck breast or roast pork with sage.

2021 Baron Longo Felix Anton Rosso - The Longo family has farmed this estate since the 18th century, selling their grapes to the local cooperative. In 2015, the current generation began making and bottling their own wine under the family name. A blend of Lagrein and Cabernet Sauvignon with flavors of juicy blackberries and earth. A touch of herbs comes in on the long finish. Delicious with braised beef over creamy polenta or grilled sausages.
